Explanation

Related disciplines can be any discipline having some converging areas of study with the domain subject offered by the concerned department. Applicants who have obtained their Postgraduate Degrees in related disciplines can be granted admission only if their research is of an interdisciplinary nature. The Departmental Research Committees of the Departments concerned, shall ensure this by properly evaluating the research proposals and interviewing the candidate.

3. Procedure for admission

Admissions to the Ph. D Programme shall be through an Entrance Examination and an Interview conducted by the concerned Academic Departments. No candidate is exempted from appearing in the Entrance Examination and in the Interview. The thrust areas of the entrance examination for each discipline will be 50% from research methodology and 50% from the respective disciplines). The interview will be conducted by the Departmental Research Committee (DRC). Allotment of the research supervisors will be made by the DRC on the basis of the research area of the available research supervisors and the research proposals submitted by the scholars. The admission will be based on merit assessed through the Entrance Examination and Interview procedures with the weightage of 70% for the Entrance Test and 30% for the performance in the Interview. However, admission to the Ph.D. Programme shall be provided only on the basis of vacancies and the specializations/areas of research available in the Departments, appraised by the Heads of Departments after consultation with the research supervisors in the Department. DRC of the respective Departments are at liberty to admit less number of candidates than was notified, in case suitable candidates are not available.

4. Entrance Examination

A three hour (3 hours) duration entrance examination shall be conducted by the Departments and the question paper will carry 70 marks. Based on the performance of the candidates in the Entrance Examinations, a 'List of Qualified Candidates' for Interview will be prepared and published on the website of the University. The candidates who secure a minimum of 50% marks or above in the entrance examination (35 marks or above) alone will be qualified. Relaxation of 5% in the prescribed minimum (31.5 marks), shall be allowed for the candidates belonging to SC and ST communities, OBC (non-creamy layer), persons with disability, Economically Weaker Section (EWS) and gender non-confirming persons (GNCP) in the entrance examination. If in spite of the above relaxation, if the seats allotted for SC/ST remain unfilled, the University will be at liberty to launch special admission drive, for that particular category within one month from the date of closure of admissions of general category. The University will device its own admission procedure along with eligible conditions to ensure that most of the seats under these categories are filled.

Note: Halltickets for the Entrance Examination can be downloaded from the website of the University tentatively on 09.10.2023. The candidates are advised to check regularly the website of the University for further information regarding this. The candidates may be required to upload the scanned copies of the documents in support of their claims in the application, while attempting to download the Halltickets failing which the Halltickets may not be generated. So the candidates are advised to keep ready the scanned copies of the said documents ready for uploading before attempting to download the Hallticket.

5. Interview

- a The candidates who are qualified in the written Entrance Examination will be called through email for an Interview before the DRC of the respective Departments. Non-receipt of the email is not a ground for not attending the Interview. The candidates are advised to check the website of the University for such information. The Interview will carry a maximum of 30 marks. Interview will be based on the Research Proposals presented by the candidates.
- b The Research Proposal is intended to assess the research potential of the candidate for the selection procedure, and may be revised or completely changed in the process of research. The proposal shall have a title, objectives of the study, importance and relevance of the study, review of earlier work done in the proposed area of research, details of methodology/theoretical or conceptual framework, research questions and a select bibliography. The DRC will ensure the feasibility and quality of the Research Proposals, submitted and presented in congruence with the research thrust areas of the Department and specialization of research supervisors.

- c The following aspects will be considered for the award of marks, during the Interview:
 - i) Candidate's knowledge in the proposed area of research
 - ii) Candidate's skills and competence for research.
 - iii) Potential of the Research Proposal to contribute to existing knowledge.
- d A candidate will have to obtain a minimum of 21 marks in the interview to be qualified to appear in the Rank List. Relaxation of 5% in the prescribed minimum (19.5 marks), will be allowed for the candidates belonging to SC and ST communities, OBC (non-creamy layer), persons with disability, Economically Weaker Section (EWS) and gender non-confirming persons (GNCP) in the Interview.

6. Selection

- a Selection shall be based on a Rank List prepared in the order of merit which is the sum of the marks obtained in Entrance Examination and Interview. Only those candidates who obtain the prescribed minimum separately in the Entrance Examination and in the Interview will appear on the Rank List.
- b The Rank List will be published on the website of the University.
- c 15% reservation will be allowed for Scheduled Castes, and 5% reservation will be allowed for Scheduled Tribes. In the event of non-availability of candidates in any one of these communities, the same shall be given to the other. If no candidates are available for the seats reserved for Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe, the same will be re-notified. In the event of non-availability of candidates after re-notification, the said seats will again be re-notified and if the candidates are still not available, the said seats will be left unfilled for that particular academic year. Such re-notification shall be done within one month from the date of closure of admissions of the general category. No unfilled seats will be carried over for the next academic year.

- d The admission will be done by the respective Departments based on the Rank List prepared. The seats reserved for the Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe will be filled only after the filling of the seats from the general category in the order of merit.

Candidates qualified in the Common Entrance Examination shall submit through email a copy of the research proposal as mentioned above before the Head of the Department on or before 27.10.2023.

7. Admissions

Admissions to the Ph.D. Programme will be made from the Select List which is prepared, observing 20 % reservation for the SC/ST. GNCP and PWD candidates who are on the Rank List, but do not appear in the Select List, are eligible for admission, in the order of merit, in the supernumerary vacancies as are sanctioned by the Government.

Once the University publishes the Select List, the DRC will meet in a period of two weeks, to allot the supervising teachers for the candidates on the basis of notified vacancies and areas of specialization. The willingness of the Research Supervisor and the candidate to work with each other may also be taken into consideration.

Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere and in this notification, the University reserves the right not to offer admission to any candidate if the DRC, for reasons to be recorded, finds it unable to offer a particular specialization required by the candidate.
